Dear Ralph:

Thank you for sending us the final report of the evaluation team. We are very pleased that we had your support and that of the Commission to utilize a new and different format for our reaccreditation review. As I have indicated, I believe that this process has been very beneficial for our institution. We were able to devote our energy to matters of high priority--diversity, general education, and performance indicators--and the excellent members of the evaluation team provided important insights and suggestions that will be of continued value as we move these issues forward.

The team's report will be placed on our accreditation website where it can be freely accessed, and the campus community will be informed of its availability. In addition, we will share the report with those who are directly involved in work on the three topics.

Because Executive Vice Chancellor Wyatt R. Hume has assumed responsibility for leading our continuing efforts on diversity and performance indicators, we both feel that it will be best if he represents UCLA at the November 5, 1998 Commission meeting. I understand you have agreed that this is an appropriate way to proceed.

With best wishes,

Sincerely,
